

Season 2 Episode 17

The Klassika Experience

Mason sets up new radar dishes in his lab. Mason said, "With these new dishes, I could get all the TV signals from all over the world and we don't have to pay a dime for it." Jason sucks on a lollypop and he said, "What's so great about TV from around the world? It's not like you're ever going to watch anything like that." Mason said, "There may be some good stuff." Mason swings down on wires on the ceiling and he let goes and lands on the floor. He turns on the lab TV and it shows nature shows. Jason yawns and Mason said, "It works." Mason changes the channel and it shows politicians in congress. Mason said, "Look, congress is on." Jason said, "Boring. If I wanted to watch congress, I would watch that Starchest prequel where the entire thing is set in congress." Mason watches the TV and he sees Klassika is on the screen. Mason said, "Look, Klassika is in congress." Jason stops what he was doing and his eyes go big and they get stuck on the screen. Klassika said, "I am glad that congress decided to free me from prison because my music really helped with that crisis they had last week. I am also glad that you passed the law that says every radio and TV station in the United States has to play my music 24/7 nonstop. This channel should be no exception." One of the people in congress said, "You are right. We should." Musical notes appear on the screen and hypnotic orchestral sounding music plays. Jason and Mason fall to the floor and cover their ears in pain. Jason yells, "Make it stop!" Mason grabs his remote and he presses a red emergency button on it that shows a TV being broken on it. A robot arm with a boxing glove on it comes out and it smashes the screen and the awful music stops. Jason said, "It's over." Mason said, "We can't let Klassika do this. We need to take action before he annoys the world with his music. You remember what he did to us before right?" Jason gets a black and white flashback of him dressed as Atomic Jason and Mason as the Blue Flashlight being grabbed by Klassika. Jason cringes. Jason said, "I can't believe we have to deal with this creep again. Where do we go first?" Mason said, "The most logical place to strike first would be where they have the broadcast emitters." Jason said, "Where would those be?" Another TV comes out of the wall and Klassika is on it. Klassika said, "I wish to thank you, Keith for letting me use your mansion to transmit my signals for this part of the world." Keith is on the screen and he said, "I am always pleased to help anyone that is against my arch rival, Mason and will let the world learn to like me as their greatest genius." Mason said, "It looks like it is at Keith's mansion and Keith is in on this too." Jason said, "Why am I not surprised."

Jason and Mason dress in black and they are on the roof of Keith's mansion. They see a vent cover. Mason takes out a fusion cutter and he cuts the vent cover off. Jason and Mason jump down the vent. They fall down it and they curl up and get stuck. Jason said, "Great, now we are stuck." Mason said, "It may seem like that." Mason takes out a device that has arms with white gloves on them and they stretch out the vent and Jason and Mason continue to fall down it. They land on a vent cover and they see a room made out of gold below them. Mason said, "It looks like we are in the city of gold." Jason said, "That's good but where is the transmitter. I don't want to have to spend the rest of my life listening to that crappy music." Mason hands Jason some suction cups and he gets some himself and he uses his fusion cutter to cut off the vent and Jason and Mason crawl on the ceiling of Keith's mansion.

They crawl over to the door. Mason uses his fusion cutter to cut a hole in the door and they crawl through it. They look below and they see a computer room with engineers working at the computers. Their eyes look dazed as if they are being brainwashed. Jason and Mason continue to crawl and they go into the next room and they see a luxurious looking bathroom with a gold bathtub with jewels imbedded in it. They see Keith is leaning back in it and is having a bubble bath. Steam and vapor flows to the ceiling and Jason's suction cups begin to lose their stick. Jason falls off the ceiling and he smashes into Keith's bathtub. Mason looks down and he freaks out. Keith's bathtub breaks and water starts pouring out of it. Keith said, "Intruder!" Keith hits the intruder. Jason jumps out of the broken bathtub and he runs out of the bathroom and down the hallway. He is stopped by a group of thugs. Jason reaches in his pockets and he empties them out and a lot of useless junk comes out. Jason finds a taser and he uses it on one of the thugs. The thug falls to the floor and Jason jumps on him and he is about to dash off but one of the other thugs grabs onto Jason and they handcuff him and they take him away.

Mason keeps crawling on the ceiling. He finds the room that the transmitter is running in. Mason climbs around it and he let goes of the ceiling and he falls on the floor and lands on his feet. Mason places some signal blockers on the transmitter. El Dorro is sitting down brainwashed by what is on TV. The signal ends and it shows good stuff on the TV. El Dorro becomes un-brainwashed. El Dorro said, "What just happened?" El Dorro goes to the phone and he enters in Jason's number. Jason is locked up in chains in a dark room surrounded by thugs. The thugs say, "When did you last see your life?" Jason said, "Before your stupid operation ended it." One of the thugs said, "Where do you live?" Jason said, "Next to my neighbors." The thug said, "Where do your neighbors live?" Jason said, "Next to me." The thug said, "What is your address?" Jason said, "123 Iduntgiveacrap Lane." The thug said, "I will call that house and tell your parents about what you were doing. They call the number for that house and a figure with a red glowing sword answers the phone. The thug said, "Are you the owner of the child named, Jason." The figure said, "Jason?" The thug said, "Your son was causing trouble at our broadcasting station that is located at Keith's mansion here in residential San Francisco. You may come and pick up your son and you can punish him by making him watch more TV." Jason's cell phone rings and one of the thugs picks it off him and he said, "Jason is all chained up now so if you want to see him you have to come to Keith's mansion." El Dorro said, "Keith's mansion?" El Dorro looks at a map of the town and he sees that is just next door to where he lives. El Dorro said, "I guess I know what I'm doing for fun this afternoon."

Mason places all the signal blockers on the machine. Mason goes to a computer terminal next to it and he enters in data and coordinates in the computer. The signal transmitter is now wired to show what is being projected from a camera on top of the computer monitor. Mason said, "People of America, this is your genius, Mason. I am telling all of you now that you were being tricked by Klassika. He just wants people to hear his bad music and he knows how to manipulate people with it. We must stop him. It is all a trick, you all must listen to me.” Then, thugs enter the room and they beat up Mason and a fight cloud forms around Mason. The whole world watches it.

Mason is tied up in chains and he is placed in a room next to Jason and Jason is also tied up in chains. Jason said, “It looks like we have both been caught now.” Mason said, “I hope someone does something. I told the whole world about Klassika’s plan.” Klassika and Keith enter the room. Klassika said, “Jason and Mason. What a pleasure it is to see the two of you again. Too bad you don’t have any superpowers with you this time.” Mason said, “You are not going to win. I told the whole world about you.” Klassika said, “Do you believe everything you hear on TV? Do you think the people of the world will listen to you?” Mason said, “I think so. The world knows who I am. They know about my work. I have won several science related prizes for my work. People from all over the world have come to view my lab. It is considered to be one of the eight wonders of the world.” Klassika said, “You are not going to have a lab anymore once you are through with me.” Keith said, “I have built a rocket guidance system that will launch a rocket into your lab and destroy it. There is nothing you can do now and people are not going to be focused on that.” Jason twitches and freaks out. Jason said, “Mason, your lab is going to get destroyed. You don’t seem nervous at all.” Mason said, “I have no reason to be nervous. My lab is replaceable. I change it and renovate it all the time. There is not much you can do with it.” Klassika said, “Let’s see about that. Take it away, Keith.” Keith flicks a switch and the rocket is launched from the mansion and it flies through the sky and it targets Mason lab. It heads for Mason’s lab and it comes very close but it stops. The radars in Mason’s lab manipulate its commands and it sends it back to Keith’s mansion. The rocket flies back to Keith’s mansion and it destroys the whole wall leading to the outside of the mansion. Jason and Mason see the light of outside. Keith said, “You did something. You are always one step ahead of me.”

El Dorro runs in the room from outside. El Dorro said, “Jason, Mason, I’m glad you are here there is something freaky going on.” Klassika said, “There is nothing to see here kid. Why don’t you go back to watching my music on TV.” El Dorro said, “Not until you hand me Jason and Mason.” Klassika said, “Why would I do that?” Justice Knight enters the scene. He holds his ruby red sword at Klassika. Klassika takes a large gulp. He calls in for his thugs. Justice Knight fights off the thugs. He slashes some of them with his sword and he smacks one of them in the face. El Dorro goes and he unchains Jason and Mason. They try to escape but Keith stops them. Keith rips off his regular clothes to reveal he is dressed as a karate kid. Keith said, “I’ve heard that Jason is a Kung Fu master. I thought I would take that up myself.” Jason said, “Bring it on.” Jason and Keith fight each other in a Kung Fu battle. The sound becomes out of sync with the picture. Keith moves his lips and his voice said, “Your Kung Fu is no match for mine.” Jason’s face is still and his voice said, “You should have stuck to being an inventor for a toy company.” Jason’s lips move afterwards. Jason knees Keith in the crotch. Keith falls to the floor and he said, “You haven’t beaten me yet...” A robot walks over to Keith and it picks him up and it runs away with him.” Jason scratches his head. El Dorro shows Jason a remote. El Dorro said, “I found this remote on the floor earlier. I took it because I thought it was something important. I didn’t know what it was though.” Jason said, “You never cease to amaze me, El Dorro.”

Klassika sees his place and his plan is falling apart. Klassika takes out a gold cane with jewels in it and he duels Justice Knight with it. They duel and Klassika hits Justice Knight in the helmet several times. Justice Knight forces Klassika to back off with his sword. Justice Knight said, "I've fought against dragons and monsters and evil kings. You are nothing compared to any of those things." Justice Knight takes several deep slashes at Klassika's sword and it crumbles apart. Klassika tries to run away and Justice Knight uses his sword and he sticks it to the back of Klassika's suit collar. Justice Knight holds Klassika in place.

Justice Knight walks outside with Klassika on his sword. People crowd around Keith's mansion. They see Klassika and they boo at him. They throw tomatoes at him. Someone throws an anvil at him and it hits him in the crotch. The police show up and they arrest Klassika. Jason, Mason, and El Dorro look at the scene. Jason said, "I knew we would win. He have had so many adventure before where we would win." Justice Knight goes up to Jason, Mason, and El Dorro. Justice Knight said, "I honor the fact that the three of you are brave and noble and are willing to fight evil to save the world for the greater good. However, you still have a lot to learn. Captain Fusion may have taught you a lot but there is still a lot you cannot learn from him. That is where I come in. I will teach the three of you to have great hero skills so you can save the world from time traveling peril. None of you are worthy of lifting my sword. You all shall become worthy of lifting my sword once you learn from me about what it means to be a true hero. We have done a lot for today. It is time we rest. You will be needing your rest."

Klassika is in prison and he is with all the other prisoners that did similar crimes to him. The prisoners gather in a musical theatre. Jason gets up on the stage. Jason said, "Hello everyone, the prisoners of San Francisco. I've been told I am a bad cook but I am even worse at being a singer and a song writer. Let's have a listen to me." Jason sings songs that are annoying and have lyrics that are literally gibberish. Klassika watches this and his brain shatters like glass and his head violently quakes.

Justice Knight is in Mason's Lab with Jason, Mason, and El Dorro. Mason said, "So tell us Justice Knight, what is the true meaning of being a hero?" Justice Knight said, "Being a hero means you have to be strong and brave and noble and help your friends and seek revenge on enemies and make sure your friends get the best there is and have your enemies get the worst they can get. That was justice for Klassika because he had to suffer a taste of his own medicine." Jason said, "So that's what justice is all about then." Justice Knight said, "That pretty much settles it." Justice Knight takes a glass of lemonade and he holds it up to the top of his helmet where the slits for his eyes on his helmet are. He pours the liquid down there. Justice Knight said, "This liquid you call lemonade is very refreshing." Jason, Mason, and El Dorro give themselves weird looks for what Justice Knight is doing.
